Welcome to the Scholastic Success with Literature series. Using an innovative approach to teaching literature, Success with Literature blends the benefits of a word processor with the sage advice and assistance of a computer-based literary coach. It will actively involve your students in writing about literature.

Success with Literature stresses the writing process. Rather than memorizing details, names, and quotations, students can explore themes and ideas from a literary work. With the assistance of Scholastic Notes, both on and off the computer, students can begin to explore literary works through writing about them. Together, the word processor and Notes will help them organize their thoughts, develop a thesis, write a cohesive, well thought-out paper and print preliminary and final drafts.

Each program in the series explores a different classic, presenting background information, brief plot summaries and commentaries, and five themes, each with three to five suggested writing topics. The word processor also includes a database of literary criticism and select quotations from the work, providing students with everything they'll need to start writing.

We're sure Success with Literature will prove to be a valuable contemporary approach to writing about literature.

Look for all of these Success with Literature titles:

Hamlet, William Shakespeare
Julius Caesar, William Shakespeare
Macbeth, William Shakespeare
Romeo and Juliet, William Shakespeare
The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, Mark Twain
Jane Eyre, Charlotte Bronte
Pride and Prejudice, Jane Austen
The Red Badge of Courage, Stephen Crane
The Scarlet Letter, Nathaniel Hawthorne
A Tale of Two Cities, Charles Dickens
The Turn of the Screw, Henry James
Walden, Henry David Thoreau
